Wiggins Heads Gridiron Club

J. R. Wiggins, editor of The Washington Post, was elected president of the 80-year-old Gridiron Club at a meeting yesterday in the Statler Hilton Hotel. He will be inaugurated at the club's annual dinner on March 12.

Walter Trohan, chief of the Washington bureau of the Chicago Tribune, was elected vice president.

Others elected were Julius Frandsen of United Press International, secretary; Richard L. Wilson of the Cowles Publications, treasurer; Frederic W. Collins of the Ridder Publications, historian, and three members of the executive committee—Roscoe Drummond of the New York Herald Tribune, Jack Steele of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, and John Williams Jarrell of the Omaha World-Herald.

David Wise, chief of the Washington bureau of the New York Herald Tribune, was elected to membership in the club.
